

Spring is in full swing, and while we're still waiting on those May and June rains, now's a good time to talk about how we manage the water we have. In this month's newsletter, we're digging into how Project YaREN™ will responsibly use water while protecting Ingleside's resources.

Plus, we also want to give a big thank you to everyone who stopped by our recent plant giveaway! Your support and energy made it a blooming success. If you missed it, you can read all about it at the Project YaREN blog.

At Project YaREN, we understand the importance of water. Water is the lifeline of any ecosystem, and it is crucial to a thriving community. We want you to know that we:

- Will not access the city of Ingleside or San Patricio County freshwater supplies for industrial purposes.
- Will use seawater from the La Quinta Channel of the Corpus Christi Bay to help regulate process temperatures.

FAST FACTS

Project YaREN aims to be a good steward of the environment by using water responsibly and protecting the environment.

- 1 Approximately 75% of the seawater accessed will be returned to the bay.
- 2 Using best engineering and environmental practices, we will be protective of wildlife and the environment.

Project YaREN Fact Flyers

We're making one-page, informational Fact Flyers to explain the more technical parts of Project YaREN. You can find them on our website under Documents or printed at the Information Center.

You can find the "Project YaREN and Water" Fact Flyer, which explains the proposed facility's water cycle, at the link below.
